

We played with mines and grenades - the downfall of Silesia from the view of Hänschen

Autor: Hans-Dieter Langer, Niederwiesa

Table of Contents (englisch)

Thanks	6
Preface	7
Introduction	16
1. A Silesian World War Trilogy	21
1.1 Silesia becomes an battlefield during World War II	21
1.2 The destruction of Strehlen	43
1.3 The war in Hussinetz	68
1.4 Memories of Silesian events from Werner Sperlich	116
2. On the battlefields Neuweistriz and Gęsiniec	125
2.1 Hänschen in Neuweistriz	125
2.2 Hänschen again in Hussinetz	148
3. Wilhelm Jirmann from Hussinetz, our protector	209
4. Hänschen and the small animals	228
4.1 Prolog	228
4.2 In the sign of Pisces	236
4.3 From the fate of Hänschens small quadrupeds	247
4.4 Airworthy objects of Desire	275
4.5 Epilogue	288
5. Papa, the Silesian soldier (see also Appendix)	288
6. downfall and wrong scenarios	319
6.1 From the memories of Vilem Jirman	320
6.2 The last sexton of St. Mary	331
6.3 Anna, widowed Kupka, widowed Brix, born Smolla	348
6.4 Always on escape, but arrived at the port ... Konrad Fleger	358
7. The view of a next-generation	371
7.1 Prolog of the author	371
7.2 September Strehlen - Autumn in Strzelin from Falk-Uwe Langer	373
7.3 Epilogue of the author	378
Literature	380
Appendix	